

Nancy is from Batavia, New York, and completed her undergraduate studies at SUNY (State University of New York) in Morrisville, New York, and Oklahoma State University. She enjoys the outdoors, especially the beach, and loves to read. She is also a master fine needle artist, with many awards at the local and state level. Her husband, Dan, is a retired teacher and they love to travel the US and internationally. She has one son and two grandchildren. Nancy's VA career started in 1981 at the Batavia VA, and she transferred to Charleston in July 1989, where she has worked in nutrition support, dialysis, HBPC, and Primary Care. She was promoted to the Nutrition and Food Service Chief position in 2007.
